The Great Pumpkin

Charlie Brown and Linus should get in touch with J. Roland if they're planning to meet The Great Pumpkin this Hallowe'en. Although this summer was less than ideal for growing pumpkins Roland's patch yielded a few monsters including this 125 pounder which took first place at last weekend's Horticultural Society weigh-in

Election is now three-way race

Scott represents ConservativesBill Scott

By next Monday all three of the main political parties in the federal riding of Victoria - Haliburton will be represented by candidates for the November 21 election.

Liberal Candidate Bruce Glass was joined in the race last weekend by Progressive Conservative incumbent Bill Scott. And on October 17 the New Democrats will be having their nomination meeting at the Lindsay Legion, when it is expected that Emily Township resident Cathy Vainio will be acclaimed.

Prime Minister Brian Mulroney put an end to months of speculation last Saturday when he set November 21 as the date for the next federal election. The election call coincided with the Victoria - Haliburton Conservative nomination meeting at Lindsay Collegiate and Vocational Institute.

Scott, who has held this riding for 23 years, won the local riding association's nomination unopposed. He was first elected in 1965 and has won six consecutive elections since. He successfully defended his seat against Glass in the 1984 election when he received more than three times the support of Glass. In that election, Scott received 30,229 votes to Glass' 10,032. The NDP candidate received surprising support with 8,682 votes.

Vainio, who will very likely be the NDP candidate for this election says her goal is to boost the party's image in this riding. She says she will be aiming for the win, but will be satisfied to increase the number of votes garnered to 17,000.

Vainio is currently a trustee on the Victoria County Board of Education and will be completing her first term in that role in November.

Vainio is a family services worker with the Children's Aid Society in Lindsay. She has held numerous positions with the education board, including chairing the negotiating committee, and being a member of the long-range planning committee.

Originally from Australia, Vainio moved to Canada in 1966 and has lived in Emily Township since 1975. She is 50 years old, married and has four sons.

Rescue team called to Donald

A 34-year-old Donald man is charged with possession of a weapon after police, including a Tactical Rescue Unit, were called to the scene of a domestic confrontation on the morning of Sunday, October 2.

Earl James Prout will face charges of possession of a weapon dangerous to the public peace and common assault in Provincial Court Minden on November 3.

The Minden OPP Detachment received a call at about 3:30 a.m. to respond to a domestic confrontation involving firearms in the Hamlet of Donald. A Tactical Rescue Unit was called in to assist and arrived at about 11 a.m. Police report that the situation was resolved without incident through negotiations.

OPP Constable Bob Wood is the investigating officer.

Lock box charges dropped

Haliburton County residents using post office lock boxes will not have to pay a renewal fee on the lease starting in the new year.

The new policy adopted by Canada Post will give a break to people who depend on the lock boxes to receive their mail. This change in policy will affect a million people across Canada.

There is currently a charge of $6.74 to rent a lock box for a year. This practice has come under much criticism, since it penalizes residents who have no other alternative to receive their mail.

The policy, however, does not apply to residents who do have an alternative. People living on rural routes, for example, have the opportunity to receive their mail at home through delivery at roadside boxes and must pay a fee if they wish to rent a post office box. The fee in this case will be $26.20 per year.

On Saturday, October 1 a surprise birthday party was held at the home of Opal and Don Crowe with Beulah Hewitt to celebrate her 70th birthday, which was on October 10th. Family and friends called during the afternoon with best wishes, cards and gifts and enjoyed a light lunch. The happy occasion was shared with two of the family members first the "wee" man Garnet Davis, October 2nd and Wilma Barry, October 1st. Her children, grandchildren and great grandchildren all joined together for the evening meal and music and songs with the family. Everyone had a great time and altogether 65 people visited with her on her special day.

We met Jacquie Chillman yesterday and she was really tanned from her holiday with some of her family at the Bahamas.

The two Jeans went on the Studio Tour on Saturday, October 1 and were very amazed at the talent and welcome shown everyone all over the County. It was a great day to see the colour in our fall foliage as well.

Jane, who's nearly five, just wouldn't go to sleep. She'd been to bed three times, and three times she'd come downstairs again, to the room where her mother and father and grandparents were chatting. Finally, Grandpa rose, "I'll see what I can do," he said with quiet confidence, and hand in hand, the two went off up the stairs.

Ten minutes later, the sitting room door opened silently. Jane tip-toed in, her finger to her lips.

"Sshh," she whispered. "I told Grandpa a story, and he's fast asleep!"

Hi Kids!

Here is another puzzle for you with a word list. Look in the diagram of letters for the words given in the list. Find them by reading up, down, forward, backward and diagonally. They are all in a straight line and do not skip letters. Circle the words in the diagram and cross it off the list.

It's as easy as that. Have fun!

Forest decline addressed Wednesday

Haliburton County residents concerned about the decline of area forests will be tuning in to watch The Nature of Things on channels 3 and 12 this Wednesday.

Forest decline is the topic of this week's show and it will compare what is happening in this part of Ontario with forest decline in the State of Indiana.

Former Minden resident Orie L. Loucks, who is a professor at a research centre in Indiana will be featured in this episode of the Nature of Things. Loucks, who still has a cottage in this area provides insight into this global problem. The show will be aired at 8 p.m.

N.D.P. candidate opposes free trade

Vainio says she opposes the free trade agreement proposed by the Tory government because it will create "a few winners and a lot of losers". She says this will be the most important issue in this federal election.

On a local level, she says she has an understanding of the problems with water levels in Haliburton area lakes. She says in order to right this problem all levels of government have to look at the overall picture in global terms. She says there has to be better communication between the various government levels.

She also expressed some concern about the trend being experienced with light industry. She encourages the growth of industry in Victoria County but fears that there is a good deal of insecurity when newly established plants are allowed to close down.

Committee is formed to study CN line

Haliburton County Council has appointed an ad hoc committee to investigate potential uses for the abandoned C.N. railway corridor that the county has decided to purchase.

At the September 21 council meeting, Dysart Reeve Murray Fearrey, Cardiff Reeve Mack Peters, Minden Reeve Sinc Nesbitt, Glamorgan Reeve Bob McCausland and Snowdon Reeve Bob Vick were appointed to the new committee. The railway property, which runs from Kinmount to Haliburton Village, crosses through Snowdon and Dysart Townships and touches the corners of Glamorgan and Minden Townships.

The county elected to pick up its option to purchase the narrow, 21-mile strip of property last September after the province had passed up its option 10 months earlier. The purchase price for the property was set at $31,000.

The remainder of the railway line, south from Kinmount, is in Victoria County, which has not decided whether or not it will purchase that strip. That county has commissioned a study to investigate the feasibility and potential uses of the property.

There are a number of interest groups with their eyes on the Haliburton railway line for recreational purposes. In Snowdon Township, where the railway veers away from County Road 1, the possibility of opening a new road has also been suggested.

Over the next few months the newly established committee will be looking into all these possibilities and watching to see what becomes of the line in Victoria County.

HARRISON TRAIL: A perfect place to take a walk

The "Harrison Woods Nature Trail", provides a colourful walk in early October.

After laying out a very interesting kilometre long walking trail through his eight hectares of rolling woodland just west of Carnarvon, Ross Harrison, a well known resident of Carnarvon, donated this beautiful parcel of land to the Province of Ontario in 1975 to be open to school children and the public in general.

This trail, now maintained by the Ministry of Natural Resources, is accessible from a parking lot situated on the north side of Hwy. 118 - about 100 metres west of Highway 35 at Carnarvon.

After a short walk westerly along the road right-of-way, the pathway meanders through stands of mature mixed hardwood and conifer, where many tree species have been identified with small metal plaques. It also traverses areas of second growth hardwoods and a 23 year old red pine plantation. At one point it follows the historic Peterson Colonization Road for a short distance.

A number of wildlife species may be encountered, but it must be remembered that animals here in their natural habitat often disappear with the approach of noisy humans.

It is hoped that many local school groups as well as the general public will take advantage of this very pleasant, easily accessible, and educational walk with nature.

Remember - take only pictures and leave only tracks.

Change

For more than two decades the people of Haliburton and Victoria Counties have been represented with dedication, enthusiasm and integrity by our Member of Parliament Bill Scott. He has earned the affection of his constituents by paying close attention to what is happening here and continuing to be a part of it all.

Bill Scott is the epitome of a true grass roots politician. If there is an official function being held anywhere in the two counties, Scott will be there. If we are celebrating a special birthday or a graduation, we will surely receive a congratulatory card. Scott is one of those rare people with the uncanny ability to remember names, a knack that further endears him to the voters.

With a wealth of experience and popularity, it is not surprising that he has been chosen by the Victoria - Haliburton Progressive Conservative Riding Association to once again seek election. He received the nomination last Saturday, unopposed.

Unfortunately, we believe the party is asking Scott to carry them one too many times. It's clear that the 23 years of rushing from one social function to another has taken its toll on Scott. He appears to be tiring of it all. He held off until the very last minute to announce whether or not he would be seeking the nomination, demonstrating his mixed feelings about serving another term in office.

It is surprising that Scott did not take this opportunity to retire. There are a number of potential candidates with the intelligence and enthusiasm to rekindle this riding's clout in Ottawa. Instead, the riding association has decided to stick with what it probably sees as a sure bet in Bill Scott.

Over the past few years, this riding has undergone a tremendous amount of change and the years ahead will pose a real challenge to the person elected to represent us. The Conservatives, by again choosing Scott, have shown us they are more concerned with the win than with providing the solid leadership needed to meet those challenges.

Regular attendance at social functions will not put water into our empty wells. Birthday and graduation cards will not prevent the Trent-Severn Waterway from tapping us dry each year. A knack for remembering names will not give us the political clout that will be needed to increase the reservoir capacity of the waterway.

The Conservatives had their opportunity to provide a candidate to meet the challenges in this rapidly changing environment. They let us and themselves down.

We encourage people to take a good look at Liberal Candidate Bruce Glass in the weeks building up to election day. He is aggressive and articulate. He has an understanding of both local and national issues, which would promote strength in government and a more audible voice for this constituency.

Bill Scott has done a tremendous amount of work for the people of Victoria and Haliburton during his day. However, we believe his day has passed. It is time for a change.

Let's suppose....

black 'n white

by Arthur Black

Let's suppose an invasion of killer aliens were to strike our planet tomorrow. Let's suppose these creatures roiled across the surface of the Earth, slaughtering humans by the hundreds of thousands, devouring millions of tons of vital, irreplaceable Earthly fluids, infesting thousands of square miles of prime land and capable of reducing our largest cities to a shrieking, stinking paralysis by sheer force of numbers.

What do you suppose we would call a catastrophe like that?

A plague? Monsters from Outer Space? The Creatures that took over the Earth?

We already have that catastrophe. And we've got a name for it as well.

We call it the automobile.

We don't consider the car to be a catastrophe of course - far from it. We (with the helpful nudge from Detroit Big Three Ad Copywriters) look on cars as sexual turnons and fashion statements, status symbols and pleasure wagons.

But the old family chariot is a bit more than that. You have to have a grudging respect for any terrestrial phenomenon which, without declaring war, has managed to kill more North Americans than all the bombs of the First and Second World War put together.

By a long shot - more than two million of us have perished behind the wheel and under the bumpers of cars. More than six million people on this continent have been crippled in car accidents for life.

Imagine the entire population of British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan in wheelchairs, body casts, or on life support systems - that's an automotive legacy the glossy TV ads don't talk about.

Picture the entire citizenry of Calgary, Vancouver and St. John's pushing up marble - that's another.

Cars may be killing us in other ways as well - each

Water levels cause much anger

Editor:

Re: County Initiative & Water Level Woes - Sept. 26/88 Times

In regard to the unabashed audacity of the Trent Severn Waterway Authority to remove from our lakes, water in a magnitude that defies description, I personally am becoming most concerned and annoyed.

My personal water intake line into Canning Lake was installed many years ago, when this problem was not nearly as serious as it is today.

The deterioration of water levels as they are today, however, prompts me to register a most serious complaint, in that if there is insufficient water to cover over my intake line, I will be completely deprived, (on the occasion of a deep freeze) of normal water facilities and also of the ability to take immediate remedial action on the occasion of a fire at my residence.

A few years ago I phoned the Trent System and on complaint to someone in the higher echelons (with threats of suit) managed to obtain in the period of one week, seven inches of water!

This season, to the end of September, this authority has managed to remove 32 inches of water at my boat dock. Considering that Canning Lake and Kashagawigamog Lake are basically the same levels, this is a tremendous amount of water, used as I have seen, to allow a couple of canoes through a lock.

I for one, am mad enough to refuse the authority their carte blanche use of our water and would be quite agreeable to (if necessary) mounting armed guard at damsites.

The authorities' claim of attrition due to evaporation are, to a very minor degree, acceptable, but in the main pure unadulterated B.S.

The county attempt to find an alternative solution in reservoir capacities to alleviate this problem is commendable, but assumes years of negotiation with people not only uncaring but unfamiliar with the sentiments of this region.

W.H. Ingram,
Minden.

Grass roots support

Auto addiction

vehicle spews out about a ton of noxious air pollutants annually. And who could put a dollar figure on the amount of land we devote to the beasts in the form of parking lots, freeways, highways, byways and cloverleaves? Insurance agents and auto repair shops grow sleek and fat on our auto addiction. Oil company executives have a swell time in the boardroom inventing new ways to separate car owners from their money. The people want unleaded gas do they? Jolly good - we'll stop putting lead in the gas, but we'll charge them more for it! What fun!

The money we lavish on cars is scarcely credible. Do you know how much $1 billion is? It is more than half the annual budget of some Canadian provinces. If you counted out a hundred one dollar bills a minute for eight hours a day, five days a week, it would take you 80 years to reach $1 billion.

One billion dollars also represents the total of unpaid traffic tickets in New York City last year.

For some of us, car love has passed over the line into car obsession. A couple of years ago a California woman was buried propped up behind the wheel of her favourite Ferarri, in accordance with her wishes.

Bad enough to worship cars - in Yugoslavia you can worship before them. There's a small town Yugoslavian priest who ushers in summer each year by blessing thousands of cars. They all park reverentially for the occasion in front of a special mobile altar made of two Fiats. And in New York there's a woman who took her Cadillac to an altar. Not to worship - to wed. Yes, she married it, to the musical strains of The Wedding March - tooted out on car horns of course.

And finally, there is Carhenge. Carhenge is an American copy of Britain's Stonehenge, rising on the shoulder of U.S. Interstate Highway 385 just outside of Alliance, Nebraska - except it's made of - you guessed it - junk cars. Carl Reinders, the man responsible for Carhenge, says "If Stonehenge has some purpose, then I think Carhenge has some purpose." Well, don't try to sell that to a Druid, Carl. Still, you have to wonder what some archaeologist stumbling across Carhenge, say a hundred years from now, would make of 22 rusting cars all standing on their hoods.

Come to think of it, he might see our obsessive autoeroticism a whole lot clearer than we do ourselves.

Dysart selected as lead township

Dysart et al has been named the lead municipality for the County's Waste Management Masterplan.

Since waste management is still a responsibility of the municipalities, the Ministry of the Environment had asked Haliburton County Council to name a "lead municipality" in order that the study can proceed. At the September 21 County Council meeting, Dysart et al was chosen to fulfill that role.

Bicroft Reeve Bill Howe reported at that time that all the information that the ministry had asked for regarding the master plan will soon be forwarded to them.

A wonderful weekend

Editor:

We would like to express our heartiest congratulations to the organizers of the Studio Tour which took place in the Haliburton area last weekend.

We were greeted with warmth and enthusiasm at each location and were sorry that time did not allow us to visit more venues.

It was a wonderful way to spend a fall weekend and our thanks to all concerned for bringing the artisans of Haliburton to our attention!

Biodegradable cups

Editor:

We are participants of the Archie Stouffer Enrichment program.

Recently we called Harry Pye of the Rockcliffe Snackbar. He has informed us that he has been using bio-degradable styrofoam for coffee cups and burger packaging for quite a while.

We would like to compliment him on his care for our environment because apparently when regular styrofoam is burned it lets off toxic fumes called fluorocarbons which are harmful to the ozone layer.

We hope that others will be as thoughtful as Harry Pye has been.

Water levels becoming more normal Waterway claims

A sharp decline of water levels in Haliburton reservoir lakes is now past as cooler temperatures and corresponding lower losses prevail.

A decline of only 1.2 per cent over the last week to an average of 36.3 per cent on September 26 has left the lakes nearly 5 per cent higher than this time last year and now moving closer to the 10-year average.

Minimum releases from the Gull and Burnt River systems as well as increased discharges on the Ontonabee have caused a decline on the Kawartha Lakes. The Ontonabee River flows will be maintained near 28 cubic meters per second until the Kawartha Lakes have all reached the midpoint of their respective navigation ranges.

The requirement of water on the canal system has declined, therefore, little additional water will be drawn from the reservoirs during the fall season.

Drought curbs algae growth

Although the drought of this past summer has created tremendous problems with dry wells and plummeting lake levels, it has also meant a reduction in the amount of algae in area lakes.

Don Shortreed reported to Haliburton County Council that the lack of rain during the summer gave the lakes a break from the effects of acid rain. As a result, he said there seems to be a reduction in the amount of algae present in area lakes.

Just over a year earlier, Shortreed was reporting that a type of algae associated with acid rain was a growing concern especially in the lakes in the northern part of the county and in Muskoka. Now, though, with such a reduction in rainfall, the concentrations of algae have also declined.

Redmen kickers are still undefeated

The senior HHSS soccer team continued their winning streak this week with a 3 - 2 win over I.E. Weldon. The Redmen are solidly in first place with a record of four wins, no losses.

Mark Sorenson opened the scoring for Haliburton early in the first half on a well-placed long shot from 30 yards out.

Weldon came back to tie the game and then Jan Haedicke scored his first goal on a penalty shot near the end of the half.

Weldon came back to tie the game again early in the second half, but the Redmen rose to the occasion and, took control for the remainder of the game.

At the three-quarter mark, Chris Youngdale was hauled down in the penalty area and Haliburton was awarded a penalty shot. Jan Haedicke made no mistake in drilling the ball neatly inside the left post to score the winning goal.

Once again everyone played well. Special mention to Cecil Smith, Jan Haedicke, Chris Youngdale and Mark

Sorenson for their outstanding work, and to Chris Holliday-Rhodes who played very well in his first full game. Pat Casey, Roland Greber and David Kinsella were very steady on defence.

Turkey bonanza at HHSS

Each year, during the week before Thanksgiving, a Turkey Shoot is held at Haliburton Highlands Secondary School to raise both school spirit and funds for the Student Activity Council.

The Turkey Shoot has the students and teachers each taking ten shots at the hoop with a basketball. The competitors to sink the most baskets win a Thanksgiving meal.

Glen Scully, who helped organize this year's event, says it could not be run without the generous support of the local merchants who donate the turkeys.

This year's winners are as follows:

Lee Schelenberg wins a turkey from Haliburton IGA. Roland Greber wins a turkey from Haliburton Valu-mart. Jackie Smith wins a turkey from the Butcher Block. Andrea Cowen wins a turkey from Minden IGA and Mr. Davies wins two T-bone steaks from Coneybeare's Butcher Shop.

This year's student organizers were Sarah Stouffer, Cindy Byers, Annmarie Muli, Margaret Reiss, Mike Klages and Jason Williamson.

A bird in the hand is worth seven through the hoop. That's how many baskets Lee Schelenberg shot to win one of the turkeys in the annual HHSS Turkey Shoot last Friday at the school.

The Haliburton Highlands Secondary School's field hockey team was in fine form as they took on Lakefield in the opening game of a Kawartha Regional qualifying tournament at the school Friday. The team edged Lakefield 5-0 before taking on Bancroft later in the afternoon.

You could cause harm to the lake

It is time to do something about the old dock.

The dry summer has resulted in lower than usual water level, and there's barely enough water to float the boat.

What to do? You wander to the water's edge and notice exposed bits of rubble along the shoreline, just perfect for building dock cribs. You decide then and there to organize a work party for the next weekend to extend the dock using natural, readily available materials. WRONG!

"What you are about to do", cautions Wayne Wilson, District Biologist for the Ministry of Natural Resources in Minden, "could cause serious harm to your lake." Wilson explains that the natural rubble about to be removed normally serves several important roles, from protection of your shoreline property against wave erosion, to the provision of valuable spawning or feeding habitat for bass, walleye and trout. In fact this area may be used every fall and winter by the lake trout for spawning and egg incubation. If you destroy it, you destroy the fish's capacity to reproduce.

Not only does this eventually result in poor fishing, the upset in the fish community balance can have far-reaching, and in some cases, irreversible effects. The complex food web in the lake is easily destroyed, and can ultimately result in water quality problems and an undesirable fish community. The trout have enough trouble dealing with such stresses as fishing, acid rain and nutrient enrichment, without having their spawning grounds destroyed.

"It is a much better idea to use floating docks or cribbing", advises Wilson, "or to bring rock in. Most commercial gravel pit operations have a ready supply, at reasonable prices."

Leaving shorelines in their natural state, with minimal man-made alterations, is the best way to maintain productive fisheries and clean, safe water.

In October when you close up your cottage, take the time to go out at night and watch to see if lake trout are using your rubble shoreline for spawning. You will discover, why lake trout prefer some areas over others and why windswept, well-oxygenated rock shoals, free of silt, are so important to the success of the lake trout fishery.

For more information on shoreline works and their effects on fish habitat, as well as your responsibilities under the fisheries act of Canada, please contact your local Ministry office.

The Haliburton and District Association for the Mentally Retarded requires two people for our residential program. One full time and one part time position are currently available.

Person should be open minded and willing to work as part of a growing team.

Acid rain report

The following report on precipitation events was recorded at the Ministry of Environment acid rain testing laboratory in Dorset and compiled by Environment Canada.

The following report is for the period of September 25 to October 1, 1988.

September 26 - 1 mm rain, 4.6 pH, through northern Ontario.

September 27 - 8 mm rain, 5.4 pH, from Wisconsin, Michigan and southern Ontario.

October 1 - 23 mm rain, 4.5 pH, from West Virginia, Ohio and southern Ontario.

Environmental damage is usually observed in sensitive areas regularly receiving precipitation with pH less than 4.7. Readings of 4.0 pH or less are considered dangerous. The lower the reading, the more acidic the precipitation.

Vaccinate Your Pets

Pet owners should know that rabies vaccination protects both the animal and its human companions. In the past 10 years rabies was diagnosed in 16,392 animals in Ontario of which 1,408 were dogs and cats. More than half of the 12,000 people who had to be vaccinated during this period had been exposed to dogs and cats. Rabies vaccine provides animals with an effective barrier against infection from four weeks after the inoculation for a period of a year or more. Cats require more frequent booster vaccinations than dogs to maintain a good level of immunity, but your veterinarian's advice on the frequency of vaccination for both dogs and cats should be followed.

"Before you can make your mark, you have to be on the Voters' List."

Tommy Hunter, Entertainer

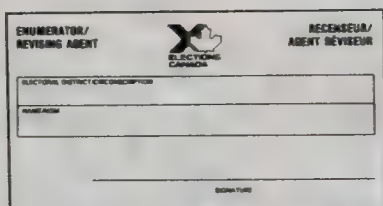

Here's how you can get on the Voters' List.

Elections Canada Officials Will Come To Your Door

Over the next few days Elections Canada officials, called Enumerators, will visit your home to register all eligible Canadians to vote. They will ask for the names of all Canadian citizens 18 years of age and over who are living in your residence.

They Are Easy To Recognize.

All Elections Canada officials carry identification cards to distinguish them from candidates' campaign workers. Look for their I.D. cards and open your door to them.

Protect Your Right To Vote

Remember, if your name is not on the Voters' List at election time, you may lose your right to vote.

In Rural Areas, The Process Is Different

In many rural areas, the Enumerator will not stop at your home. He or she will post a Voters' List on public display. It is your job to make sure your name is on that list. If it is not, you should contact the Enumerator before Nov. 2 to add your name.

Look For Your Enumeration Card

You will be sent an Enumeration Card after the Enumeration process is complete. It tells you that you are on the Voters' List, where to vote, when to vote and what your riding is. It will also give you a telephone number to call if you have questions.

If you don't receive this card or if there are mistakes on it, you will get a chance to correct the information during what is called the Revision Period.

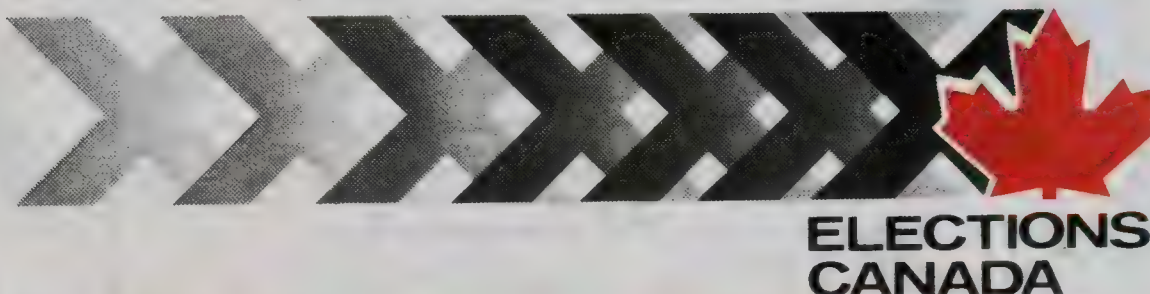

Watch for more information in the coming weeks from Elections Canada.

Elections Canada. Your Official Source Of Election Information.

All federal elections in Canada are run and monitored by a non-partisan agency of Parliament known as Elections Canada. Elections Canada, with no political affiliation, protects the rights of Canadian voters to participate freely and privately in the democratic process.

Canada's Non-Partisan Federal Elections Agency.

Enumeration Period:
October 14 to 20

Sheri Fallis-Hawkins

Highlanders applaud new vocalist

Getting a start in the music business is a difficult task, and for the newest Haliburton County musician that break came after winning top honours in the Fair talent contest.

Sheri Fallis-Hawkins, who only recently moved to Gelert from her hometown of Niagara Falls has joined up with a Bracebridge band and hopes to soon be playing to local audiences at Gelert Gardens.

Sheri's arrival in the Highlands was a stroke of luck: both good and bad. She and her roommate were driving to British Columbia and made a stop here to visit with relatives. Sheri says she was planning to open a recording studio out west, but when the van in which they were travelling started giving them trouble, they decided to stay over in the Highlands for a while.

Sheri says that when she entered the fair, she fully expected to be booed off the stage. She dresses a little differently than most people in this area and says she anticipated that the audience, especially at a county fair, would not accept her brand of music. Instead, the response was terrific.

"People around here are really receptive," she says. They really enjoyed her music and voice. The judges agreed with the audience in giving her top prize.

Sheri says she has always been interested in music. As a child she sang at various school functions and contests always taking home a prize. While still in her teens, she formed her first band, entertaining at family gatherings and outdoor picnics. However, youth and inexperience worked against the band, and it was soon forced to fold.

She expected boos but won loud cheers

She later joined the Gerry Jackson Trio and played the local circuit in the Niagara Region. While performing her nightclub act, she met a private investor who helped to finance her first single, entitled "What will my children see."

That record did receive some local airplay, but a limited budget and poor production limited its potential. She wrote both songs on the record and also dabbles in guitar, piano, harmonica and drums. Her style of music is rhythm and blues.

The band that Sheri has lined up to play with her at Gelert Gardens is called Liberty Road, which was once the house band at the Albion Hotel in Bracebridge. Initially they will be playing on Saturday nights, but once that gets going, she hopes to also get a Friday night jam session started. This is only in the planning stages right now, but the Friday night sessions would give local musicians a chance to get out and join in the fun.

Just prior to moving up here, Sheri was in a band to see the school and watching her eyes light up when she saw all the equipment in the music room.

No firm date has yet been announced for the start of Sheri's Saturday night sessions at Gelert Gardens. However, she is practicing with her new band and hopes it will not be long.

The hummingbird miracle

by Marion Streb
Federation of Ontario

A route of Evanesence
With a revolving Wheel
A Resonance of Emerald
A Rush of Cochineal
And every Blossom on the Bush
Adjusts its tumbled
Head -

Nearly a century ago this is how Emily Dickinson described the forays of a male Ruby-throated Hummingbird in her garden in Massachusetts. The force and rush of her verse captures the electric energy of this shimmering little creature, the smallest bird in North America.

So fragile-seeming are these tiny creatures that their survival in our harsh world seems miraculous. They have all the attributes of creatures from a fairy tale. One is an apparently supernatural strength. No larger than a good-sized insect, they will, when they leave Ontario, fly thousands of miles to the extreme southern U.S. or even to Central America. To reach Central America, they will cross the Gulf of Mexico whirring tirelessly along just above the waves. Unable to credit the strength of this mighty mite, people still repeat the old wives' tale of Hummingbirds hitching rides on larger birds.

Even the materials it gathers for its nest are out of the tales of elves and little people. The nest which is a compact mound about an inch deep and an inch across is often fastened down with spider silk. The main bulk of the nest is made up of bud scales, but the entire nest is encased in moss and lichens. Inside, the nest is lined with plant down from plant like fireweed, hawkweed, and thistle. The eggs which lie in this elegant nest are no bigger than a pea.

When it comes to brooding the eggs and rearing the young we move from fairy tale to hard reality. The handsome male seldom lends a hand, though he may perch nearby and drive off intruders. At first the female regurgitates nectar and small insects to feed the young. One wonders how the young, no larger than bumblebees, escape serious damage when she thrusts that long beak down their throats.

Most people are convinced that hummingbirds live on nectar. In fact, a large part of their diet consists of the small insects which frequent flowers. Male hummingbirds can sometimes be observed behaving like hyperactive flycatchers, making forays from a perch into crowds of swarming insects.

As anyone who has put out a hummingbird feeder knows, these little creatures are attracted to a dependable source of sucrose. For this reason where there are yellow-bellied sapsuckers there will be hummingbirds. The holes drilled by the sap-suckers provide a source of sap and some insects. A ready-made larder like this may help hummingbirds survive a late spring cold snap.

A word of caution to those who have been feeding hummingbirds, especially in the north country. It is time to cut off this source of food, because it is time for these little dynamos to be on their way south.

In planning a garden one might plant with a view to attracting hummingbirds, butterflies and moths. Start in the spring with early flowering shrubs, and then offer wild columbine and bee balm, iris and gladioli and find a place for a trumpet vine. Its orange red cones will lure any hummingbird in the area. A friend reports that nasturtiums are irresistible to them. Last year she had not one perfect bloom in her bed. A male hummingbird slashed the spurs of all the blossoms to get at the nectar. Her delight in the bird outweighed her annoyance at the destruction.

Right now there is plenty of natural food about for them. In mid-September I have come on as many as 20 hummingbirds worrying the orange blossoms on a patch of jewelweed. Whirring motionless in space as though suspended by a silken thread, they paused to sip, then darted off to divebomb others in the flock.

Ruby-throated Hummingbirds are extremely aggressive with one another and with intruders. Like small dogs they are ready to take on anything even if it is several times their own size. I once observed a hummingbird pursuing a Chimney Swift and diving at it so that it took evasive action.

About human presence the hummingbird seems tolerant almost to the point of tameness. It is with real regret, then, that we watch them beginning to move south. But it is time to be resolute, take the feeder down and send them on their way.

Development study soon

The consulting firm of Keir and Muller Associates, will be hired to carry out an Economic Development Study for Haliburton County, it was decided at the last county council meeting.

The county's Sir Sandford Fleming College Liaison Committee has prepared terms of reference for the study, which will ultimately identify areas in which the college could expand its services in Haliburton. Four consulting firms tendered for the job of conducting the study. Keir and Muller Associates will be hired at a maximum cost of $26,825.

The study will investigate the feasibility of establishing a year-round, fully-integrated post secondary educational institution in Haliburton that would focus on visual arts and recreation. The study will also address possible alternatives for the promotion of economic growth in the county.

In recent years the Highlands have experienced dramatic changes and opportunities, it says in the terms of reference for this project. The area has experienced a strong cottage development and resort industry. Recreation, tourism and hospitality services have flourished and there has been an increasing interest in the area of arts and crafts and outdoor recreation.

All of this development, though, has happened without direction or plans for the future. Without a more specific plan, county council feels the momentum and opportunities will be lost.

County Council agreed that a study should be conducted, but set a maximum budget of $30,000 for this purpose. There was some speculation that the work could not be done for that money. However, the bid from Keir and Muller falls within the price range, meaning that the study can move ahead.

It is expected that the study will be completed in about six months.

Canada Post issues seven new stamps depicting animals

Canada Post Corporation is issuing seven low-value stamps in denominations of 1, 2, 3, 5, 6, 10, and 25 cents. These stamps are used to make up the exact amount of the postage required on large envelopes or parcels.

Depicted on each of the new stamps will be a small Canadian mammal. Included in the issue will be a flying squirrel (1-cent), porcupine (2-cent), muskrat (3-cent), varying hare (5-cent), red fox (6-cent), skunk (10-cent) and a beaver (25-cent).

Flying squirrel
(Glaucomys sabrinus)

Characterized by its gliding membranes, flat furry tail and large eyes, the flying squirrel can be found in the timber forests of Canada and the Western United States. Although the flying squirrel, a nocturnal animal, does not hibernate, it stays in its hole during cold or wet weather.

Porcupine

(Erethizon dorsatum)

Adapted for life in the trees, the porcupine feeds on the bark and twigs of trees as well as their leaves. The most striking feature of the porcupine is its hair, which has been modified into barbed quills. Porcupines do not throw their quills, as is commonly believed. Muscles in their skin cause the quills to stand erect and detach easily when the animal is threatened. It is usually the action of the attacker or the swinging tail of the porcupine that causes the quills to become detached.

Muskrat

(Ondatra zibethicus)

Adapted to aquatic habitats the muskrat can be found from the northern edge of the Canadian mainland south to Mexico. Like the beaver, the muskrat's coat is designed for activity in the water and consists of a thick, waterproof underfur overlaid with long, glossy guard hairs; its hind feet are partially webbed with large claws; the long tail is flattened vertically and used for swimming. The muskrat is able to swim at least 100 yards underwater and can remain submerged for as long as 17 minutes.

Varying hare

(Lepus americanus)

A resident of northern temperate forests, the varying hare is also known as the snowshoe hare. Its large, thickly padded, hind feet work like snowshoes and enable the hare to run through deep snow by distributing its weight over a large surface area. By varying its colour from season to season, the hare is able to conceal itself from predators.

The red fox

(Vulpes vulpes)

Occupying the largest geographic range of any living carnivore, the red fox has only recently become common throughout North America. Now found from the high Arctic to the deep south, the red fox's habitat ranges from tundra and boreal forest to the prairie. Rarely found deep in mature forests, the red fox prefers to roam the open country and live at the edge of forests. Interestingly, scientists have discovered that most foxes are omnivorous when small fruits and berries are in season.

Skunk

(Mephitis mephitis)

Skunks live in areas of mixed woods, grasslands and open prairie, usually close to water. They are found in areas of mixed agriculture and thrive in suburban areas. The skunk has evolved a conspicuous black and white colouring to deter its enemies. In addition to making behavioral threats, the skunk is well known for its capacity to spray predators when it becomes annoyed or frightened. The skunk has considerable control over the spray and is able to direct it as far as 16 feet.

Beaver

(Castor canadensis)

The North American beaver ranges from northern Mexico to the southwestern deserts of the United States; from the Rocky Mountains to the edge of the Arctic tundra.

The second largest rodent in the world, the beaver is a powerful swimmer and has nostrils that close, valves to shut the ears, lips that seal the mouth while chewing, and a membrane to protect the open eye when underwater. The beaver has a well-developed diving reflex that slows the heart, reduces blood circulation to the extremities and conserves enough oxygen to allow the beaver to remain submerged for 15 minutes.

The stamp designs

Designed by Gottschalk & Ash International of Toronto, the definitive stamps depict these small animals on a split, textured background suggestive of the animals' environment. The stamps were printed in four-colour lithography, (with the exception of the 3-cent stamp which was printed in five-colour lithography) by Ashton-Potter Limited, Toronto.

Hello Readers: What a beautiful day with nice weather and lovely colours all around.

We welcome another resident Mrs. Stella Stinson to Hyland Crest.

Mrs. Buttery had a visit with her sister Mrs. G.

Kellett on Friday, also her brother Wilfred Ackersblade and his wife. Annie Jones had her son and his wife to visit with her the last two Sundays. Winnie Barnum attended a wedding in Keena, Ontario last weekend. I had my grandson and his wife Karen in for a visit, also a short visit with Frances and Frank Wilkinson, (Angus Coulter's daughter from Calgary). It was nice to see Mrs. Burgess Jr. out again.

The Ladies from Kinmount Baptist Church served our Thursday afternoon tea and the Pastor's wife Debbie Fogwell favoured us with piano and violin music. It was lovely and enjoyed very much.

Glad to report Nancy Carefoot is coming along nicely in St. Michael's Hospital in Toronto. Dora Dawson is still not very well but is improving.

The latest bus ride was on Friday to lake Kashagawigamog which was enjoyed very much. We had Mr. Jenkins entertain us yesterday, Monday on the occasion of his mother's birthday. Birthdays in October at Hyland Crest are Bob Mitchell, Tryphina Jenkins, Lucy Burgess, Lula Ferrill, and Etta Brentnell. We really enjoyed Mr. Jenkins music and thank you Ray. Welcome anytime.

Aloha.

Give Mom and inch and the whole family has to go on a diet.

Arthritis Society news

The Arthritis Society wishes to advise all its generous supporters that it is not a member of the Victoria County United Way.

The Arthritis Society, Lindsay Branch, has been a member of the Lindsay United Way for many years, and in 1986 when it became the Lindsay and District United Way and 1987 the Victoria County United Way, the Lindsay Branch continued its membership.

Throughout Victoria County there are many branches of the Arthritis Society that conduct independent campaigns and continue to provide educational support and a home physiotherapy program.

The Arthritis Society continues to be a member of the United Way in Lindsay only.

We hope this clears up any confusion that has arisen.

If you have any questions or inquiries please contact Mrs. Helen Burton, 286-2722, or the Regional Office of the Society in Oshawa, 416-434-7221.

Don't believe all you hear

by Doreen Hawman

As a result of entering a contest at the National Home show, a local resident received a call from a U.S. based firm informing him he had won a trip to the Bahamas. The information centre made an inquiry to the Ministry of Consumer & Commercial Relations on behalf of the individual and the following news release was forwarded to the centre by return mail.

Dated April 15, 1988 - ONTARIO CONSUMER MINISTRY WARNS HOME SHOW VISITORS ABOUT VACATION OFFER.

Visitors to the recent National Home Show at Exhibition Place should be cautious about a possible follow-up telephone solicitation from one of the exhibitors for a U.S. based shopping club membership and an inexpensive vacation, according to the Ontario Consumer Ministry.

Several consumers have complained to the ministry that a win-a-trip contest coupon they completed at the home show has resulted in a telephone call from the United States informing them that they had not won the free trip but had qualified for membership in a home shopping club and a discount trip to either Florida or Mexico. All the consumer had to do is pay $299.00 and supply the caller with their credit card number.

"The ministry has some concerns about this promotion," said Consumer Services Bureau advisor Randy Reese. "First, consumers are strongly advised never to give their credit card numbers out to sales people or any other unsolicited callers. This is particularly true when dealing with out-of-country callers since there would be no protection under provincial or federal law should there be a problem." Reese also advises consumers to consider whether the offer is actually as good a deal as it sounds.

"Reasonable package vacations to Florida or Mexico are available through Ontario registered travel agents. Trips arranged through these agencies are protected by the Ontario Travel Industry Compensation Fund should the trip not take place. Bookings with out-of-province firms have no such protection. In addition, when you arrange a trip yourself, the date and location is your choice, not someone else's," said Reese.

Membership in an American home shopping club can also lead to problems. Currency exchange, postage and handling costs, and manufacturer's warranties that are not honoured in Ontario are only some of the difficulties you could encounter. And, if you don't receive the goods ordered or they arrive damaged. There is no recourse for complaints in this country.

"Don't let a good sales pitch convince you to join a club or take a trip that you haven't thoroughly researched and planned. Remember, if the offer sounds too good to be true, it probably is," said Reese.

If you require help completing an application or have a question that needs answering, contact your nearest Information Centre. In Haliburton the centre, located in the Drag River Municipal Building, Maple Ave., is open Monday - Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 457-2733. For the residents of the Minden area, the centre is situated in the Municipal Building, Milne Street, and is open every Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. or call 286-4100.

IN MEMORIAM

HARRISON: In memory of a loving sister and brother-in-law, Laura who left us September 29, 1984 and brother-in-law Dave on June 17, 1980.

Sadly missed along life's way
Quietly remembered every day
No longer in our lives to share
But in our hearts they are always there.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Annie, Earnie and Mae.

HARRISON: In loving memory of my dear parents, Laura and Dave. Dave passed away on June 17, 1980, Laura passed away on September 29, 1984.

Though your smile is gone forever
And your hands we cannot touch
Still we have so many memories
Of you, dear parents, who I loved so much
Your memory is our my keep-sake
With which I'll never part
God has you in His keeping
I have you in my heart.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed, son Harold.
